SIMON FROM CHINA

Foundation Studies now Studying a Bachelor of Computer Science at the University of Waikato

"I chose Waikato Pathways College because my knowledge studying in high school was not enough to start my degree. I wanted to study more before I began to study computer science. I really learned a lot of things about logic in my Foundation."

"Our students have the best of both worlds – being university students with all of the benefits of the facilities and student life. They also have the supportive and encouraging environment provided by the College."
