New Course: MSc AI for Business. With the growing demand for AI skills the MSc AI for Business is aimed at recent graduates, from any discipline, seeking to boost their knowledge and understanding of AI in the context of business, as well as professionals wanting to update their workplace knowledge and skills. A key feature of the course is the development of practical knowledge through an independent consultancy project where you will integrate knowledge acquired throughout your course.

New Course: MSc Criminology: The degree is offered by the Institute for the Study of Power, Crime, and Society, housed in the Department of Law and Criminology. The course has a strong interdisciplinary orientation that reflects the range of expertise and approaches in the research institute and the department. During the course, students address topics related to crime, deviance, and punishment within their broader social context and across different societies and settings.
