International Student Scholarships Update.

From the 2026/2027 academic year, the International Student Scholarship will change from percentage discounts (10%, 20%, 30%) to more generous flat rate scholarship values of: £2,000, £3,000, and £4,000. These values have been intentionally designed to strengthen clarity and value for both applicants and approved representatives.

The move to fixed-amount scholarships (£2,000/£3,000/£4,000) provides a simpler and more generous proposition for students to understand than percentage-based awards. Our international student scholarship and international tuition fee levels have been benchmarked against that of our competitors, enabling us to remain competitively positioned while maintaining the high academic quality and student experience expected at the University of Northampton. Together, these changes support more agent- friendly fee conversations that shorten decision-making time and enhance conversion.

To support clear recruitment conversations, here are some illustrations of scenario examples of the tuition fees amount the students would pay after an international student scholarship is awarded and applied:

- Student A is applying for LLB \(Two Year Accelerated\) with a tuition fee of £18,000. If awarded a £2,000 scholarship, the student will pay £16,000.
- Student B is applying for a BSc Engineering with a tuition fee of £18,000. If awarded a £3,000 scholarship, the student will pay £15,000.
- Student C is applying for MA Social Work with a tuition fee of £20,000. If awarded a £4,000 scholarship, the student will pay £16,000.

Our scholarship eligibility thresholds in our qualifications guidance process will continue as they are until further notice, providing stability in academic entry expectations and supporting consistent recruitment conversations.

For clarity, our undergraduate international student scholarship covers the length of the undergraduate course, subject to academic progression.
